Selectmen's Meeting

SEPTEMBER 10, 1985 - by Virginia Arral

RAIN -- FLOODING -- AND ITS PROBLEMS

Flooding in the home can be a problem to the homeowner, but when flooding occurs in the schools, that is a problem for all the residents. The cost of repairing a long-standing situation at Center School will be shared by the taxpayers.

The Center School experienced about 15 inches of water during the recent storm, said Andrew J. Santos, business manager of the Old Rochester Regional School District, at last week's Selectmen's meeting.

A joint session with the Mattapoisett School Committee, Superintendent Joan Walsh, Mr. Santos, Water Department Superintendent William Nicholson and Maurice Tavares, Center School custodian, was held to discuss the flooding problem.

Mr. Nicholson said he felt the old, deteriorated clay pipes are to blame for the problem that has existed for about five years. But the situation has been getting much worse the past year. During this past storm the water was "literally boiling out of the cracks in the cement".

Mr. Santos said the problem has existed at least five years, but not to the degree it has this year. He reported cases of duplicating paper were ruined and a scrubbing machine was damaged. He added that Mudgie prevented more damage by taking the foresight to move materials to a higher place.

Selectmen questioned what is the best way to go to solve the problem. Should Manuel Nunes look at the situation or should an engineer be hired? Nicholson suggested a dye testing of various manhole drains to see where the leak is and where the water goes before any work is done.

The board agreed to have Mr. Nunes review the conditions and consider his recommendations. Selectman Frank Suzan said if Manny knows what the problem is "I'd go along with what he recommends".

Nick gave the "ballpark figure" of $25. per foot for 265 feet at a cost of $6,500 to repair the drains. This would have to come from a special article placed before the voters, Selectmen noted.

In other business Selectmen:

MET WITH RESIDENTS of Marina Drive for a second session in an attempt to resolve their problem with flooding on the private road.

Spokesman for the group Peter Bourdon said he couldn't understand why if the town installed a larger pipe on Meadowbrook Drive (a private road) it couldn't install a larger one on Marina Drive. "We have always had problems," he said, "but since that pipe was installed, we have had more severe problems."

Selectmen Chairman John DeCosta said the town cannot do work on private roads. He noted the problem could have been solved years ago when a resident tried to get the road accepted as a town road, but not all the residents of the road would sign the petition - and it needed all to sign to go before town meeting.

Selectman Suzan noted when a private area is developed it is up to the developer to maintain the roads. That may be the one to contact. Selectman James Huntoon advised seeing an attorney as to other steps to take if they wanted to make it a town way without all signatures.

In conclusion, the board recommended Bourdon speak to Manuel Nunes whose highway crew are working in that area now to look at the problem. DeCosta noted Manny may have a suggestion as to a solution.

ACKNOWLEDGED RECEIPT of $448. from Police Sgt. Edward Pina as money in reimbursement of expenses incurred by the Mattapoisett Fire Department while responding to the smoke bomb incident at the Old Rochester Regional High School. The money was received from the persons involved in the incident.

WERE PUZZLED by a request from the Wareham Board of Selectmen seeking the board's opinion as to how the Mattapoisett Board of Appeals would base a decision on a certain question.

Selectman Huntoon said he was surprised at the request for such information considering the present litigation the Wareham Selectmen and Appeals Board are undergoing at the present time. The board felt the question was "inappropriate at this time" and will so notify the Wareham Selectmen.

WILL REFER to Police Chief James Moran a petition signed by 10 Old Marion Road residents who are requesting that two more stop signs be placed at the intersection of Old Marion Road and Pine Island Roads; thus making it a four-way stop.

The petition states, "Presently there are two stop signs; one at Pine Island Road and one on Church Street Extension. This controls the speed on Pine Island Road and Church Street Extension but has no affect on excessive speeding on Old Marion Road. Year round this intersection is used as a bus stop for school children, campers and the SRTA buses. The intent of this request is to keep the speed reduced to 30 miles per hour and insure the safety of the public and the children of our neighborhood."

ANNOUNCED THE CLOSING of the area from Shining Tides dock easterly to Eel Pond Creek to the taking of shellfish beginning October 1 until further notice. Shellfish Constable Brian Nunes made the recommendation for the purpose of propagation. This does NOT include the taking of scallops from October 1st through April 1st.

Nunes recommended James Sullivan and Lloyd Haskell be appointed as deputies to serve on weekends to assist with propagation. Selectmen agreed to postpone their decision until next week.

WILL REFER to Highway Surveyor Manuel Nunes a complaint from Mrs. Carlton Burr regarding water and flooding on Ned's Point Road. Mrs. Burr noted in her letter that the past rain storms have been exceptional but that it does not take such heavy rains to cause the flooding conditions.

Marion Natural History Society

The opening event at the Marion Natural History Museum's Oceanology Center was voted an outstanding success by all who attended on September 10th. Mrs. Margot Foster presented the program to V.A.S.E. mothers at 1 p.m. Those who attended were: Jerie Borden, Susan Chute, Marlaine Moore, Danielle Coffin and son Charlie, Dick Lagreze, Elizabeth Howe, Richard Manduca and Eunice Manduca.

The demonstration started with setting up a 10 gallon aquarium tank using all Sippican Harbor specimens. The most dramatic moment was when the seining net brought in species such as: tiny, aggressive blue crabs, a one inch puffer, a one inch stickleback, a few minnows and hundreds of silversides which seemed to be everyone's favorite food. Parents waded in to get dozens of hermit crabs and appropriate seaweed, and it was probably the only time four-year old Charlie Coffin was permitted to walk into the harbor fully clothed.

The session was repeated at 3:15 p.m. for the teachers of Sippican Elementary School. Present were: David Baker, Kelly Barron, Amy Clay, Fred Hutchings, Peter Farrell, Debbie Almeida, Louise Ferrari, Hazel Hunt and Natalie Karl. Teachers and parents were very enthusiastic about continuing the study of Oceanology and are working on a plan so teachers will be able to use the Oceanology Center during science class and parents will assist. With such a marvelous facility so close to the school Marion may yet discover

Founded in 1962 by entertainer Danny Thomas, St. Jude Hospital has become the world's largest center for the study of childhood cancer and is the only institution dedicated solely to the treatment and study of catastrophic childhood diseases.

St. Jude's dramatic progress has been made possible primarily by voluntary contributions raised through events such as the "Wheels for Life" bike rides organized by concerned citizens all over America. Everyone is invited to participate. Sponsor sheets and further information may be obtained by calling either Mrs. Ouimet or Mrs. Lewis.

Sippican Playground - Help Wanted!

With only 23 days left until construction of the playground at Sippican School begins, the P.A.S.S. Committee is beginning to feel the crunch. Money has been raised, many of the materials have been donated, but now the pressure is on to find the right people for the right job. People are volunteering daily, but there are specific areas which need many more helping hands.

Mike McCann, Tools Committee Chairman, and his partner, George Pina, are looking for circular saws, hammers and other small tools, as well as people who can use them. If hammering or cutting is not your speciality, help is needed in other construction areas, such as carrying "little boards or big boards", rolling tires, planting trees.

Babysitting is being provided for children over 2 years old for those parents working on the construction. Child Care Coordinator Stacey Tyler has arranged for myriad activities to keep the children happy and entertained, but there is a real demand for volunteers in the child care category. Grandparents, teenagers or anyone especially interested in helping with the children are encouraged to sign up.

Wendy's and McDonald's are happy to provide meals, but drivers are needed to transport them. Dunkin' Donuts, Sippican Shop and Flo's are donating coffee and donuts, but someone is needed each day to pick them up. Chris and Heidi Taft are donating their own homemade chowder, but help is needed in serving it. A celebration Sunday evening buffet has been graciously contributed by Sippican Ocean Systems to those crews working on the weekend, but people are needed to set it up, serve and clean up following the dinner.

What can you to do help? How can you lend your aid in making construction weekend, October 10-13, a happy, successful, productive event? Please call Kelli McSweeney, 748-1530, or Kathy Feeney, 748-0200 (at Converse Realty) or 748-0426 at home.

Mattapoisett Visual History

Houses and house moving will be the subject that historians will pursue on Wednesday, September 18, at 10:00 a.m. in the Mattapoisett Free Public Library.

Early in this century land was cheap but building a house was a long and tedious job. It was common practice to move houses from one site to another. Much of this was done in Mattapoisett by people such as Everett Stetson.

Historians will share their knowledge of these moves and their whereabouts; also the growth and building pattern that has taken place throughout the century.

The September 25th meeting will end the present series of these Wednesday morning taping sessions at the library. Final subject will be women and their life in the early 1900's.

Here's how
Chiropractic treats
Whiplash

"Whiplash" is not a specific injury or disease in itself. It is a type of injury which comes from a sudden, shocking movement which snaps the body with force. It causes a variety of injuries to the neck and upper spine.

The doctor of chiropractic is uniquely trained to deal with problems of the spine and nervous system. Modern chiropractic manipulative techniques are directed specifically to eliminate the causes of pain and malfunction. Early detection and correction of a whiplash problem can eliminate related symptoms and effects.

FINE ARTS

The format of the Fine Arts program will change this year, hopefully benefiting many. Rather than evening meetings on study/research reports members expressed considerable interest in touring nearby museums for special exhibitions.

Reservations, guided tour arrangements, carpool organization and museum contacts will be handled by the Fine Arts Chairman, H. Elayne Sama.

Tours will be open to all club members. Of particular interest and planned for the fall is a trip to Boston's Museum of Fine Arts for the Renoir exhibition.

A calendar of scheduled museum trips will be available at the September luncheon of the club.

The first session was marked by the good cheer and camaraderie of the traditional Labor Day festivities and these were enjoyed by the members of the family in an enthusiastic turnout. Members attending were: Emerson, Priscilla and Jane Hiller, Eldredge and Peg Hiller; Emerson (Buzzy) Hiller, Jr., Charlene and son Jay; Nelson Hiller; Ira Hiller III (Terry), Barbara, Victoria (Vicky), Thomas (Thom) and David (Terry and Barbara were the gracious hosts for the occasion); Martha Lorraine, Fred Lorraine with Joanne and Scott; Jacques Ludman with his son Jay-Jay and daughter Nicole; Helen and Gordon Downer; Brian Hiller; Ruth Martocci representing the Race Committee Chairman. They were joined by Honorary Members Brad and Alice Gatenby and John and Laurie Sperandio.

On the first day, September 1st, five races were held over a quadrangular course in excellent weather with light northerly offshore breezes interspersed with gentle showers---a fine sandwich of racing weather. Buzzy started the races in a Whaler, ably assisted by John Sperandio. The results:

First Race: First, Brad Gatenby in a Beverly Dinghy; Second, Scott Lorraine on a Wind Surfer. Note: Eldredge in his Beverly capsized on a jibe.

Second Race: In Beverly Dinghies, First, Emerson Hiller; Second, Buzzy Hiller.

Final Three Races: In Beverly Dinghies: Emerson, Eldredge and Buzzy divided honors equally with a first, a second and a third each.

The Second Session was held on September 7th in the venerable Beverly Dinghies ably piloted by Emerson, Eldredge and Buzzy and consisted of two parts, four races around the traditional quadrangular course in the Harbor and a Triathalon from the Wharf to Pico Beach, and return. This was a long leg requiring expert helmsmanship on a port tack to Ned's Point, skilled crossing through dragon-toothed rocks and a tacking duel to Martha Lorraine's beach where the yachtsmen were welcomed by Martha and rewarded with a sumptuous luncheon prepared by First Chef Fred Lorraine. The results of races were:

Review: The Miracle Worker

AT THE GATEWAY PLAYHOUSE

by David B. Boyce

William Gibson's well-known play, "The Miracle Worker", opened last Friday, the 13th, to round out the '85 season at Wareham's Gateway Playhouse.

Retelling the early life of Helen Keller, this inspiring drama unfolds in scenes which reveal the frustrated attempts of Annie Sullivan to bring an understanding of language to a truly unfortunate child.

Afflicted by sightlessness, deafness and overprotective parents, Helen is a wild creature, given free rein to trample over every convention of domesticity. Imported from Boston to teach Helen, Annie Sullivan tries desperately to bring the light of understanding, dispelling the clouds of indulgence which keep Helen a prisoner.

This Gateway production is blessed by some exceptional performances notably from Ann Kenny as Annie Sullivan, Aimee Witkowicz as Helen, Susan Shaw as Helen's mother and Jim Anderson as her father. Director Santiago Gonzalez has elicited from them some compelling moments, bursting with gut-wrenching displays of fine theater.

In a scene in which Annie attempts to teach Helen to eat with a spoon the performances by Ms. Kenny and the nine-year old Miss Witkowicz were positively spectacular. Miss Witkowicz's willful Helen steadfastly refusing to succumb to the stubborn insistence of Ms. Kenny's Annie Sullivan was truly amazing in a scene that is virtually wordless.

Unfortunately, the production does not have a miracle worker at the helm. Unassisted as he was by a litany of technical malfunctions, Mr. Gonzalez has not succeeded in threading together these scenes with consistency. Interminably long scene changes broke any momentum he achieved, leaving the audience distracted. With each new scene, the viewer had to work to re-involve themselves with the plot. There was a curious lack of ensemble playing, usually the forte of the players at Gateway. Only in those scenes between Ms. Kenny and Ms. Shaw or Ms. Shaw and Mr. Anderson was there evidence of having believable relationships.

At the play's denouement, when Helen finally understands what words mean, poor choices of blocking undermined the pathos built into the script, leaving the viewer unfulfilled. Perhaps the ominous Friday the 13th opening was responsible for the havoc wrought, as Gateway is certainly capable of rectifying the problems on view. And it is with hope that the efforts are made so that some truly fine performances are not swamped under some ponderous choices of staging. Mr. Gonzalez has exhibited his directorial skills in the past in such superb productions as "A Streetcar Named Desire" and "A Hatful of Rain". Perhaps he was less than passionate for this project than those mentioned, but he is too fine a craftsman to make such obvious mistakes and to let them remain.

Gateway's Artistic Director George W. Hayden addressed the audience prior to the opening curtain and foretold of their plans for the '86 season, including productions of such classics as Ibsen's "Ghosts", Chekhov's "Three Sisters" and three comedies by Shakespeare. They are indeed admirable choices, offering Gateway a particularly gargantuan challenge, but in the light of some less than successful efforts this summer, in plays less demanding than those planned, perhaps Gateway should rethink those plans. I salute their courage.

"The Miracle Worker" continues at the Gateway Playhouse Fridays and Saturdays, September 20, 21, 27, 28 and October 4 and 5. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

Whale Watch

This year the Children's Museum and the Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies will sponsor a WHALE WATCH on October 14. With a fall trip there is the possibility of seeing the spectacular leaping behavior of the Humpback whales called breaching and a greater variety of seabirds than is usually seen in the spring. For novice and naturalist alike, an introductory session will be held at 7:00 p.m. the night before the trip (Sunday, October 13). Whale biology, how to prepare for and best enjoy the trip and tips on photographing whales will be covered as well as a chance to examine several cetacean related artifacts and skeletons. Finally, a slide-sharing session after the trip will be held on November 6 at 7:00 p.m. Come share your best shots as well as your stories of the ones that got away!

Cost is $15. per person which includes the boat trip from Provincetown, pre and post sessions and program materials. Registration lists will be made available to encourage car pooling.

To register call the Museum at 993-3361 or the Lloyd Center at 990-0505. Your participation will help both organizations continue to make exciting educational opportunities available for the whole family.

COASTWEEK '85 - POSTER CONTEST

The Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies is planning a week-long celebration of Coastweek '85 during the week of October 6-14. Coastweek is an annual, nationwide celebration of our valuable fresh and salt water shoreline resources. It is a citizens' network of organizations, agencies and individuals who are planning activities to focus attention on the diversity of life forms and human uses of the coastline. This diversity, along with increasing development pressure, conflicting uses, and the urgent need for careful management of the coastal zone are all Coastweek themes.

One event planned by the Lloyd Center for Coastweek is a poster contest entitled "Coastal Creatures, Coastal Homes", open to students in grades 6-9. Posters will be on exhibit at the Lloyd Center during the month of October, and have generated a lot of enthusiasm from our many visitors in past years. All students interested in

Letter to the Editor

As I watched the lovely children of Mattapoisett and Marion interviewed on Cable 8 it reminded me of the day back in 1958 when prayer was no longer allowed in any public school in the United States. How unhappy the majority of mothers and fathers were about it.

Living in New York (Hempstead) at that time, we couldn't believe the fourth stanza of "America" would no longer be allowed - because it mentioned "great God, our King".

Even the beautiful little verse said by the kindergarten children was removed:

Thank you for the world so sweet
Thank you for the food we eat
Thank you for the birds that sing
Thank you God FOR EVERYTHING!

It was the "Warren" Supreme Court which did this - of course with the fervent help of Madelyn Murray O'Hare (where is she now?????) and the American Civil Liberties Union.

We hear of much distruction of material and buildings in our schools today by children....even drugs and disrespect for authority of any kind. Not that we find it so often locally - but prayer is always good for us all - and thanking God for His many blessings is something we should urge to be replaced in our school rooms. Even IN GOD WE TRUST in each classroom - as is placed before the front of where our Congressmen meet and on all our coins would be a positive thought for the minds of the students.

Harpist Deborah Henson-Conant, whose sound has been likened to "a jazz piano with a diaphonous resonance, or a guitar with a built-in reverb and 300 strings" studied classical music at the University of California at Berkley, where she performed with the area's major symphony orchestras.

She is supported by double bassist Peter Kontrimas and drummer-vocalist Bob Stoloff.

A sampling of their repertoire includes pieces such as "Days of Wine and Roses", "Autumn Leaves", "Misty", "Ebb Tide", "Moonlight Sonata", "Fool on the Hill", "Scarborough Fair", and "I Could Have Danced All Night".

The Trio recently has been awarded a Massachusetts Arts Lottery grant for Jazz Performance.

In an earlier tour of the United States they entertained at the Smithsonian Folk Festival in Washington, D.C., and Sheila was invited to have tea at the White House with President Ford, the Queen, and Prince Philip.

Accompanied by Sheila's son, Ian Mac Gregor, a piper from Perthshire, the Stewarts sing old Scottish traditional songs that have been handed down through generations of Belle's "traveling" people. Her ancestors, expert tinsmiths, roamed the Perthshire glens, buying and selling goods, and working on the farms in harvest time. The generations of wanderers left the Stewart family the song and musical heritage of the land.

Belle has sung her own composition, "The Berry Fields o'Blair" to the elite gathering at London's annual Women of the Year luncheon.

The 14th annual Eisteddfod, at which the Stewarts will appear, is a three-day festival of traditional folk music, country dancing, and crafts on September 20, 21 and 22. Many of the country's outstanding folk musicians will perform at afternoon and evening concerts. Tickets for these may be purchased at the door of the SMU auditorium or at the ticket office in the basement of the campus center.

Sixty-five folk musicians of national and international reputation will entertain at free daytime workshops.

Nature is one of the world's finest glassmakers. When lightning strikes sand, the heat sometimes fuses the sand into long, slender glass tubes called fulgurites. The terrific heat of a volcanic eruption also sometimes fuses rocks and sands into a glass called obsidian, shaped by early man into money, jewelry and knives.

Modern science has come up with an amazing way to make glass stronger—glass windows for the home and glass windows in stores, schools and businesses. Called Scotchtint Shatter Resistant Window Film, it's a tough, transparent polyester engineered to bond tightly to the glass, holding it together under extreme force, such as accidents, crime or violent weather. Another protective plus: it screens out harmful ultraviolet rays.

TAX REFORM AND THE AVERAGE AMERICAN

From the Massachusetts Society of Certified Public Accountants, Inc.

If you don't know the first thing about income taxes but are wondering why everyone is talking about the President's tax reform plan, here's some help: a checklist of the most significant proposed rules that will affect individuals, from the Massachusetts Society of CPAs. Keep in mind, however, that the President's 461 page tax reform plan will change hundreds of rules in the current tax system if it is adopted by Congress and signed into law -- so this is just the tip of the tax reform iceberg.

* Tax rates. Single persons with a taxable income between $2,900 and $18,000 would be taxed at the 15 percent rate, and married persons who file jointly would pay at the 15 percent rate on taxable income between $4,000 and $29,000, while joint filers would pay at the 25% rate on taxable income between $29,000 and $70,000. Singles would pay at the top rate of 35 percent on taxable income of $42,000 or more. Those filing jointly would pay at the 35 percent rate on taxable income of $70,000 or more.

* Exemptions: An exemption would reduce your taxable income by $2,000, nearly doubling the current exemption of $1040. You would generally claim one for yourself, your spouse and for each qualified dependent. Those 65 and older and blind persons would no longer be given an extra exemption, but may instead receive a tax credit if they qualify.

* Zero Bracket Amount. Sometimes referred to as the "standard deduction", the zero bracket amount is a deduction everyone receives. It is built into the tax table and that part of your income -- along with your exemptions -- is not taxed. The zero bracket amount would increase to $2,900 for single persons, $3,600 for heads of households, and $4,000 for married couples filing jointly.

* Itemized deductions. These are expenses that can be subtracted from your adjusted gross income. It pays to itemize deductions and file a Form 1040 (long form) only when itemized deductions are greater than the zero bracket amount to which you are entitled. The major itemized deductions allowed under the President's reform proposal include: charitable contributions, mortgage interest on your principal residence, medical expenses that exceed five percent of your adjusted gross income and interest on personal loans up to $5,000 plus investment income.

* Lost deductions. Several important deductions would be discontinued under the President's reforms. Itemizers would no longer be permitted to deduct state and local taxes on their federal tax return. Virtually all business deductions for entertainment would be eliminated. Only half the cost of a business meal over $25. (per person) would be deductible, but you can still deduct the first $25. Another big change in deductions: So-called "miscellaneous deductions", for investment advisory fees, tax preparation fees, safe deposit box rentals, professional organization dues, union dues, etc. would be lumped together with employee business expenses not reimbursed by your employer. These items would become adjustments to income. Only those miscellaneous deductions and employee business expenses greater than one percent of adjusted gross income would reduce your tax bill. However, you would no longer be required to itemize to claim these deductions.

* IRAs. These are Individual Retirement Accounts that give you a tax break for investing and building a retirement fund. Contributions reduce your taxable income and are not taxed until you withdraw the money. By that time, you'll presumably be in a lower tax bracket. The President's reforms would raise the amount that a married couple with one working spouse can contribute to an IRA from $2,250 to $4,000.

* Medical insurance. Employer contributions to medical insurance premiums would be taxed. The first $10. a month for individual coverage and the first $25. a month for family coverage would be added to the employee's gross income.

* Two-earner deductions. This currently takes some of the sting out of the so-called "marriage penalty" but would be discontinued under the President's reform package. Working married persons have been allowed to deduct 10 percent of the lower-earning spouse's wages -- up to $3,000 -- from adjustable gross income. This tax break would be eliminated.

* Child care expenses. A tax credit that currently defrays the cost of caring for a child while parents are at work would be replaced by a tax deduction. If you meet the eligibility requirements, child care expenses of up to $2,400 for one child and $4,800 for two children would be deductible.

All of these rules are only proposals and they may be changed by Congress over the coming weeks. Keep in mind that this summary is meant only to provide a guide to understanding the tax reform debate, and you may want to ask a CPA to help you with any specific questions about your personal situation.

Since the contests are being held on the final weekend of the Festival, it will no longer be a requirement for the prize winners to duplicate their entries for display, as has been the custom in years past.

Sponsoring the contest this year is the Cape Cod Cranberry Growers' Association and Mildred's Chowder House Restaurant of Hyannis.

New Alchemy Institute

A keynote address on "A Better Future for Farming in Massachusetts" by August Schumacher, Jr. sets the tone for New Alchemy Institute's Harvest Festival on September 21. As Commissioner of the Massachusetts Department of Food and Agriculture, Mr. Schumacher is promoting the use of new techniques and marketing strategies to increase the productivity and viability of the State's farms. His talk will be at 1:15 p.m. at the Institute's experimental farm in East Falmouth, Cape Cod.

Harvest Festival will run from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., with the morning offering guided tours, showings of the Institute's film, "A Rediscovery of Promise", and a nature walk. Guests are encouraged to bring their own lunches to enjoy at noon under the old Mulberry Tree; snacks and beverages will also be for sale.

The agricultural focus of the day underscores the fact that Massachusetts (and New England in general) imports over 90% of its food, which Mr. Schumacher and New Alchemy say need not be the case. Workshops after the keynote will give specifics on how farmers can improve their situation, as follows:

2 p.m.: Extending the growing season for profitable early and late crops, given by Mr. Schumacher.

2:30: Natural pest control, with William
